

60001039335.txt

Take your grubby hands off the internet! The internet is one of the last bastions of free speech that the asshats in the government haven't screwed up! In its current form, movements and trends do not rise and fall by their monetary backing but by the merit of themselves. Don't you dare do what you're proposing.