Please, keep the internet free. As an avid user, this comment refers to the net neutrality discussions. I'd like to start off and say that no one person owns the Internet. It is held and housed globally in numerous locations. For a business or businesses to attempt to claim or regulate it to their liking is absurd. The monopolizing of cities and the lack of competition halted the Internet from becoming as great as it can be. As a student at Arizona State University, cox communications is my provider for ASU as well as Tempe. Of they had the ability to charge what they pleased for the content I watched, I can assure you it would ruin what the Internet could be from me and hinder its infinite possibilities to me. Please keep the Internet out of the hands of major corporations and their money. You represent the citizens of the U.S. And from what I can see we as a people support an open and neutral Internet.
