

60001041473.txt

Net neutrality must be maintained. There is absolutely no justification for turning the internet into nothing more than an additional massive revenue stream for ISPs. They have no right to use it for this purpose no matter how much money they have thrown at you in lobbying dollars to make it happen. It is scandalous that this is even being questioned at all. Do the right thing and put this to rest once and for all.