

60001044811.txt

I do not support the disbandment of the net neutrality agreement that would effectively allow communication companies to charge companies for internet speed to the public accessing their websites. The internet speeds are already bad enough as it is. The USA ranks in the 30's for internet speed yet we pay more than most places in the world for access.
Stop letting the communication companies lobby and sue their way into monopolization and more revenue.