Comment: while I agree with the proposal, I believe it could safely be extended to include all complete address data for licensees in both the Amateur and GMRS services.

As neither requires licensing of a fixed address, I think showing the five-digit zip code to the general public would suffice.

In the event of a complaint filed, the investigating personnel would be the only ones who would need access to complete address information.

To simply allow address information for public consumption for the sake of public consumption does not seem necessary as there appears to be no tangible benefit to having that information readily available to anyone for any reason without an audit trail.
