

60001049022.txt

I am writing in support of increasing the wattage of low power FM stations to 250 watts. Most of the homes in this area are made of concrete, and the 100 watt signal many times has a problem penetrating the concrete. The stronger signal will mean that homes that are having a problem receiving the signal should find it much easier to receive the local community station.