

60001077004.txt

Hyper-local radio requires home and business signal penetration to reach the core of their local listening support audience. The experience needs be enjoyable at home or in the car. This is critical in convincing local business and listeners to fund this form community minded radio. Would you pay for your cable if some of your rooms in your house were unable to get a clear picture.