Prior to the most recent LPFM Filing Window, Charlottesville VA, a city and County making up 150k people plus a major University, had zero minority ownership or representation on the public airways. Now, thanks to the FCC filing window, two LPFM stations are owned or controlled by minority interests.

In order for the public airways to truly be representative of the citizens of our community the LPFM max power must be increased to at least 250 watts. This will allow our currently underpowered stations to better deliver our message and enable us to compete with the corporate giants that dominate our airways. Thank you for considering this proposal.
