I am getting very frustrated by the day ,by being forced to use handheld devices as primary telecommunications service I have hearing loss to to and accident some years ago and the condition is getting worst as time moves on,I would like to know what the FCC plans are to address this issue?,it's just frustrating when your trying to take care of your business and you cannot be heard our someone's constantly keep say I'm yelling but they cannot here you. I just don't get it.
