I currently have internet service through Comcast because it is the only available option in my area. In other areas near me, the cost is substantially less due to competition with another company. It is inconceivable to me that this government would allow this particular monopoly that we are experiencing now and then place more monies in the pockets of the internet providers to extort small start up companies. The government is in the business to protect and provide an environment of free trade, not provide additional monies to large corporations that already hold monopolies. I'll let you know if they cut me off as a result of this submission, which could happen. They have immense power. Interesting that you need all of this information that can be tracked by the providers.
