Chairman Wheeler:

As Chairman and CEO of First Weber Group, Realtors, headquartered in Madison, Wisconsin, I write to you as a long-time commercial customer of TDS. Thank you for taking the time to review my correspondence.

With approximately 1,400 real estate agents and over 150 administrative staff, we rely on our phone and Internet service to be available to our customers at all hours of the day.

Without reliable communications access our business would not survive. Regularly, we review our contract and choose the provider that offers not only the best rate, but also the most reliable service.

For more than a dozen years, we have chosen TDS to provide our services. They are a competitive provider offering the individualized services and customer support our company needs.

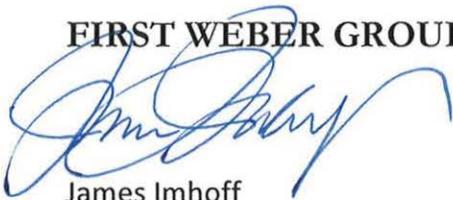

As the real estate industry has evolved and become more technologically sophisticated, TDS has been right there with us, serving as a strong, locally-based communications consultant and valued vendor to our growing organization.

We commend the FCC for your efforts to provide customers with more choice when it comes to selecting a partner who provides high-speed Internet and phone service. As technology continues to evolve, and more services become Internet Protocol or IP-based; having access to more choice will be critical to our future business success.

At First Weber Group, we encourage you to continue to protect and advance this competition, a.k.a., wholesale access market availability.

Sincerely,

FIRST WEBER GROUP
