Keep the internet FREE! This debate only shows how much money talks in the government. This is a corporate grab for control to fill their pockets while the rest of America suffers. The idea that companies can purposefully slow down the internet is appalling and it is gross that we pay more for the internet than most other countries while simultaneously having slower service. Competition of companies drive down consumer costs and drive up quality, but we've allowed the creations of monopolies to do the opposite! Let's fix that, today! KEEP THE INTERNET FREE!
