The Copyright technology office disconnected my phone call from the Cupprimo coffee shop next to Austin Belly Dance (presumably) after I said ""Hello". Three woman (the same three woman has a previous time) with the "Hawaiian" woman making a "Pirana (the vicious fish) type movement)" while all three woman "stood above me" they were standing while I as seated. They act as though they are talking about somebody else as they talk about me (at least in my interpretation). A group of people walked out of the Austin Bellydance studio next door with yoga mats or similar not long before an APD police vehicle (SUV #4499) was parked at the Valero station (near the intersection Spicewood Springs and research Blvd (Hwy 183). The cell phone made three beeps as I was disconnected from the copyright technology office.

Thank You,
