Please please please do not let the moneyed corporate interests take away the last bastion of equality in the known world. Americans already pay outrageous rates for subpar download speeds but at least all of the stuff we want to access is equally slow. If net neutrality is allowed to be bought out like cable news, the government, the FDA and the CDC, we're doomed. It will be the straw that broke the camels back and I guarantee there will be backlash like you wouldn't believe. I for one will just move to Sweden. Or Switzerland. Or pretty much anywhere outside of the US. So please... Don't make me leave the country!
