Dear Customer of Pacific Centrex Services (PCS1) and Datavo:

As you may be aware, the provision and management of your local and long distance telephone service is being transferred from Pacific Centrex Services/PCS1 and Datavo (Datavo) to Utility Telephone Inc., subject to regulatory approval; we anticipate that the transfer will take place on or about October 15, 2015. Utility Telephone is pleased to welcome you as a valued customer and is committed to providing you with the same high-quality service that you have been receiving from Datavo.

Utility Telephone has been a competitive local exchange carrier in California for over 15 years. Both PCS1/Datavo and Utility Telephone were founded in 1996 with a focus on customer satisfaction. We provide local services including long distance and data services exclusively for business customers with a fleet of on-call technicians and 24-hour California-based support staff.

Following the transfer you will continue to receive service under your existing contract at the same rates, terms, and conditions you currently enjoy for all services, as shown on your current bill from Datavo. And, of course, there will be absolutely no charges to you due to the transfer. If any changes to rates or the terms and conditions of your service were to take place they will only be done in accordance with the terms of your contract, and you will be notified of them in advance in accordance with applicable regulatory requirements.

We at Utility Telephone truly look forward to the opportunity to serve you, but want to inform you that you have the right to subscribe to local and long distance service from any carrier you desire. You may choose to switch to another carrier either before or after the transfer to Utility Telephone; however, early termination fees may apply if provided by your contract, and neither Datavo nor Utility Telephone will be responsible for any charges that your new carrier may assess.

The transfer from Datavo to Utility Telephone will take place automatically on the scheduled transfer date (unless you have changed your service to another carrier prior to that time), even if you previously have requested that no changes be made to your preferred interexchange (long distance) or local carrier without your written consent (commonly referred to as a "PIC freeze"). If you wish to arrange for a new PIC freeze following the transfer, you must contact us after the transfer is completed in order to do so.

Before the transfer date, Datavo will continue to be responsible for all of your customer service and billing issues. We recommend you contact 877.732.8286 with any billing or customer service inquiries or complaints that you may have prior to the transfer. After the transfer, all billing and service matters need to be directed to Utility Telephone at our toll-free customer service number 877.965.7800 where we will be happy to assist you.

Utility Telephone values your continued business, and we will gladly respond to any questions you may have about our services or the transfer. If you do have any questions regarding Utility Telephone or the transfer, please feel free to contact us at 877.965.7800, during business hours when a trained representative on the transfer is available.

Cordially,

Jason Mills
