There was no issue with the storage of confidential data nor with the recognition of data sensitivity. This is all related to one thing: the procedures to follow when filing the proprietary version of the Ex Parte.

The Proprietary version was labeled as such when submitted. It was simply submitted through the wrong channel.

To be frank, I am the only one here that has provided any input into this proceeding. Additionally, we have zero clerical staff. Everything I did was on my own. I did all the writing.

I got into a hurry, assumed I knew the correct filing procedures which I should have researched before submitting. I learned the hard way and submitted the follow up proprietary Ex Parte using the correct procedures.

With respect to the data, the proprietary data itself was not released in the confidential filing. There was no information by facility nor were specific cost elements identified.

Everything was averaged by ADP. The cost categories from the provider data were not shown in my Ex Parte, only rolled up total costs and rolled up total MOUs across each ADP category in summary tables. I realize it is still proprietary data and was handled incorrectly but there was nothing in that Ex Parte that could benefit a competitor.
