It cost approximately $4 out of MY pocket for my daughter to talk to her incarcerated father for 20 minutes. This is an extremely high cost for the family's of offenders that are often times already financially struggling. It has been PROVEN that recidivism is lower when there is family involvement during incarceration, unfortunately due to locations sometimes phone calls and letters are the only thing a family member can do to keep in contact and at the cost of phones calls it leaves just letters. For my daughter to talk to her dad everyday it would cost me $10,220 over his incarceration. Me, the one not in prison, supporting a child with out a father. This is unjust.
