Dear FCC,

My name is Christopher Frisk and I live in Crosby, TX.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I want to be able to update my own wireless software?not rely on slow manufacturers shipping updates.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

The United States already has one of the slowest Internet speeds why would anyone want to make us pay more for less freedom at slower speed!

Sincerely,

Christopher Frisk
