Dear FCC,

My name is michael and I live in panama city, FL.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because ideas and creativity are important

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

Government and corporate entities should not have control over arguably one of the largest outlets of free speech and free market there is today

Sincerely,

michael
