Dear FCC,

My name is Lucia Oke and I live in Country Club Hills, IL.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I don't want to see community innovations, such as mesh networking, get cut off.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would keep me from using my custom wireless configuration.

Open wireless devices provide users with the opportunity to be connected to the content they deem useful.

Sincerely,

Lucia Oke
