Dear FCC,

My name is Makayla Sybrandt and I live in Woodinville, WA.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I don't want to see community innovations, such as mesh networking, get cut off.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would keep me from using my custom wireless configuration.

Dear FCC, Capitalism should play no part in what people watch on the internet. I support Net Neutrality to it's fullest! Long live the internet, and it's freedom!

Sincerely,

Makayla Sybrandt
