

60001332909.txt

i want the internet to remain open and free to anyone. i cant believe the government has let an ex-cable company lobbyist to become heads of whatever alphabet soup organization has control over these types of things. how is this not a conflict of interest? even the common foxnews watching typical american dummy can see this for the fraud it is. this is exactly why people dont trust the gov any more.