

60001333130.txt

The internet is great because of the neutrality it has. Do not try to fix something that is not broken and will clearly favor greedy cable companies who can not even provide the American people with a proper download speed that is faster than Estonia. Action should also be taken to provide a more suitable regulator of these cable companies. A former cable company lobbyist regulating the cable company is unjust.