Dear FCC,

My name is Jonathan and I live in Battleground , WA.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I want to be able to update my own wireless software?not rely on slow manufacturers shipping updates.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

I don't want the internet being controlled by the vary rich people trying to do so just to gain huge profits on something they shouldn't be allowed to controll to this extent

Sincerely,

Jonathan
