Dear FCC,

My name is mike w and I live in Boerne, TX.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because net neutrality must remain a thing

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would enable corporations to take away what makes America America.

Seriously, I understand that you, corporations, everyone wants to get richer and richer, it's the American Dream, but when that dream takes priority over the individual freedoms that this country stands for. its too far.

Sincerel y,
