Dear FCC,

My name is Aaron Murray and I live in Edgerton, WI.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I want to be able to update my own wireless software?not rely on slow manufacturers shipping updates.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

I put alternative firmware on ever wireless device I buy to gain features, improve stability, and add the ability to disable features improving security.

Sincerely,

Aaron Murray
