The internet must be kept open as designed. No interference like from any country that is now protecting it's citizens from public information about about any person's past. [it is what it is] Some one in this country object's to this so it is stopped, then some one in that country object's to that so that is cancelled out, and then Country's like CHINA won't hardly any information on the internet. I do not wan't any change anywhere on any issue about anything Thank you.
