Dear FCC,

My name is Gabriel Valentine Taylor and I live in Eudora, KS.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I want to be able to update my own wireless software?not rely on slow manufacturers shipping updates.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

I wish I could pick more options of the above than just one but I picked what was the most important of the options to me. I know people who care about this issue more than I do, and I hope that net neutrality is protected. The internet motivates people and if we cannot keep up the amount of freedoms we have now, it would undermine many young artists and other people who just want to enjoy the internet freely along with how difficult you could make things that would effect the efficiency of everyday life.

Sincerely,

Gabriel Valentine Taylor
