Dear FCC,

My name is Andy Guerra and I live in Reno, NV.

The principles of user choice and control are vitally important for a vibrant wireless ecosystem. But as written, the NPRM threatens to undermine these ideals by limiting what users can do with their devices. That's a concern, because I want to be able to update my own wireless software?not rely on slow manufacturers shipping updates.

The draft rules could enable device manufacturers to forbid third-party software, which would make me feel less safe about the wireless networks I use and operate.

I am a small business owner and will most likely need to customize my wireless devices to my special needs. If my ability to do so is at risk so are my personal freedoms.

Sincerely,

Andy Guerra
