

60001342975.txt

We need net neutrality in this country. The internet is a sacred place and allows the free of information. The earth is in an unsettling place at this time and stopping the flow of information by allowing corporate pigs to control it and further fatten themselves on their own profits, while limiting the spread of information is only going to make things worse. Net neutrality baby.