Awesome job by that reporter who didn't hesitate to talk about Jesus. Now-a-days bringing up Jesus makes people uncomfortable and on edge, like if they are talking about sex in public. The secular world is trying to intimidate believers whenever they bring up Jesus. We need to stop this way of thinking because it is not only ignorant, but also discriminatory. I believe that this news channel should be allowed to continue on the air, and I am just disappointed that it is being threatened with cancellation because of its beliefs.
