

60001348353.txt

Sharing their believes should not make them go off the air. It's America land of the free, if people don't like what they say that is fine, but they should not potentially lose their jobs just because they believe something that someone else does not.