

60001348370.txt

The anchor in question was in no way offensive to the audience. At no point did she call to action. She simply expressed her views as television reporters and personalities often do. This should have no effect against the production, her or the team. I hope that show will not be affected in anyway by this situation.