

60001354020.txt

I am against this proposition for a number of reasons. Charter Communications is not a reputable company, and they are unfair to independent programmers. In particular, they have flatly refused to carry one of the best independent channels available, One America News Network, and I find this reprehensible. Americans should be able to access all forms of programming, and this disreputable company should not be allowed to prevent us from doing so.