

I think that a life time amateur license would be best for all concerned. it would reduce the FCC work load.