

60001521086.txt

I work with young people in 4-H in horse projects. I encourage my kids to watch equine programming on rfd tv to learn new ideas in working and training horses. The independent television networks should not be punish for being independent but be encouraged to step out of the box and stand on their own merit. Most of them offer high quality television.