I watch RFD-TV on Dish Network. I thoroughly enjoy this TV station and other stations like the Outdoor channel and the Sportsman channel. I use the programming on RFD TV for some of my business decisions. For example Ag Phd , Market Day Report, Successful Farming and Rural Evening news ect. These shows are not available any where else and are very Important to rural and ciy people alike. We have a large disconnect between rural and city people and this is a way to let them see a little bit of what we are trying to do to feed them. The companies like Verizon are trying to keep the disconnect going and make sure viewers are only able to see what they themselves deem proper and PROFITABLE. I think the best way to solve this problem is to let the subscriber choose the channels they would like to watch and pay for. Not a lot of channels they don't watch just to get a certain channel. Usually this done by making the subscriber spend a lot more money to get these channels like RFD TV. These channels should be in the basic list price or be able to choose all the channels al'acarte. I want to Thank you for your consideration on this very important subject.
