In reference to programming of "Promoting the Availability of Diverse and Independent Sources of Video".

We live in a rural area of east central Iowa and we watch RFD-TV on Dish Network. Our family feels it is very important to our farming operation to have rural programming available and affordable. In the case of RFD-TV, they broadcast a unique type of programming that is not available elsewhere. We hope the FCC will be able to see the value to keep this family friendly AND informational station for all to access at affordable rates.

Thank you for your time and providing a forum.
Sincerely,
Jerry Henning
