I watch RFD television on Direct TV. It is unfortunate large corporations are forcing me to upgrade my packages to watch what in my mind is the equivalent to PBS television. This is an educational channel for me. I use it to learn more about what is going on in agriculture through shows primarily only available on this channel. I also use not only for the news but for the educational programs directly related to the crops I grow. I appreciate your consideration of my thoughts on the importance of this channel to myself and my business of growing food for America.
