I watch RFD-TV on dish.

Agriculture is the driving force for our economy. To live we must eat and agriculture provides the food. We as farmers are less than 2% of the U.S. population. I believe close to 20% of the population is involved somehow with providing our bountiful food supply. It doesn't by some miracle just appear on our dinner table.

We are desperately in need of having the news media partner with us to inform everyone of the importance of agriculture.

Always remember what our well known and respected farm broadcaster Orion Samulson says about agriculture. "If you eat you are involved with agriculture."
