

60001529766.txt

Verizon should NOT be permitted to drop channels after people sign up for any given package and plan on having the channels available for the life of the contract. Removing the weather channel upset people, but now removing the RFD-TV channel has made me angry - to the point that if appealing to you people doesn't make Verizon change their minds, I will be changing to one of the Dish networks...