RFD tv is a channel we watch daily in our home and is provided by our cable company Venture Communication. An independent channel that provides coverage to an industry as in agriculture, a way of life, and a minority group of the population, needs to be given an affordable platform for delivery to viewers that are captive to large company providers. Just as electricity was provided to less populated country side, communications and information is just as important. Please assure that they are given that opportunity in a basic affordable package to the public.
