I watch RFDTV on DirectTV. I have to pay extra for this channel but it is well worth it. It is educational, family oriented and the only channel I get that offers things I am interested, especially equine related programming. There are enough new channels, and too many channels in my package that are duplicates or constantly selling things and too many movies repeated over and over again. RFDTV fills a gap and need that no one else does. Thanks for providing this avenue for us.
