Our family watches RFD-TV via Time Warner Cable in Northeastern Ohio. As dairy farmers, rural information is very important to us. It seems as though all of America no longer cares about the people who provide their food daily. It is great to watch a channel that promotes the good qualities of life rather than violence and sex. We cannot understand why any organization who wish to discontinue this station. We have it on over lunch as well as in the evening. Farmers do not have time to sit down and read articles for several hours and stay awake. RFD provides a way for farmers to stay updated on the latest information in agriculture.
