

60001531450.txt

I think that the decline in listeners is due to the content of broadcast, not the availability of signal. I live in a rural area and my choice of stations is limited. Without being able to pick up stations hundreds of miles away, I would have no am service at all.