I watch RFD-TV on DirecTV. I am a regular watcher of RFD-TV and I recently heard that the Federal Communications Commission is attempting to remove RFD from DirecTV. I am not 100% sure why this is, even though I looked up the NOI on the FCC website. I do believe there is a need for programming such as RFD-TV because there is a "diverse" section of our population who need, as well as enjoy Rural Family Programming. There are many informative and educational programs on RFD-TV relating to rural and farm life that cannot be accessed on any other television medium, and there are also many family oriented programs relating to family farm life that cannot be accessed on any other television medium. Please continue to allow independent RFD-TV to remain on DIRECTV in order that Rural Farm Families may have television programming that is diverse and representative of the Rural Farm Families of America.
