

60001534689.txt

I believe that everyone should have affordable and unrestricted access to the internet. This should be a public service. You cannot function in today's society without easy access to the internet. There should be no entity that should promote or discourage access to any information as long as you are not breaking any laws. No entity should be ratcheting down a customer's data speed for any reason having to do with content.