I watch RFD-TV on DirecTV.

RFD-TV refreshes my recollections of life growing up on a registered Holstein dairy farm in southwestern Illinois in the 1940's and 1950's. Programming like Rural Heritage, US and Canadian agricultural accounts of diverse farming businesses and endeavors is very welcome; it connects the past with the present as well as urban with rural life. The programming is family appropriate and offers educational insight into agricultural vocation possibilities. RFD-TV is an essential to my family's television education; it well merits continued inclusion by broadcasting venues.
