

60001536574.txt

We watch RFDTV daily as a part of our contract with DISH. We live on a cattle/grain farm and having this channel available to us is very important for many reasons. We also feel it is an important channel to have available to all TV customers whether city or rural because of the education it affords to others who may not be that familiar with the business of agriculture.