I watch RFD-TV on DirecTV and I appreciate its family friendly content and tone. I find it to be very interesting, educational and a welcome respite from the modern day TV programs that contain and promote so much negativity, hate, violence, profanity, sex and other non-family oriented content. It would be disappointing to lose the opportunity to escape {through television} to an environment rich in history, education and wholesome family entertainment. Very few, if any, TV programs provide the "clean", informative content that RFD does.
